

HIGH WATER AT WELLS CAUSES A GAS FAMINE IN COSHOCTON

SHORTAGE OF FUEL IS REACHING A SERIOUS POINT HERE SATURDAY

Supply Was Entirely Cut Off For Over An Hour Saturday Morning and Pressure Is Now Far Below the Normal — Factories Forced to Close.

More Severe Weather On The Road and Many May Suffer From Lack of Fuel If Shortage Continues—The First Real Gas Famine.

As a result of high water putting several of the wells, which furnish Coshocton with its gas supply, out of commission Coshocton Saturday is facing a very depleted supply of natural gas and as a result one factory which is wholly dependent on the Coshocton Gas Co. for fuel is closed down and another is using its own gas producer in order to run.

Homes and business places heated by gas were entirely cut off Saturday morning for over an hour.

Officials of the gas company said at noon that the supply then was very low. It is said the situation has grown serious.

The first noticeable effect on the gas pressure was at about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Breakfast fires flickered and nearly went out. The pressure was extremely low. It was then feared that the supply would be cut off entirely. But after the pressure had been down to almost nothing for about 15 minutes the flames flared up again and until 9 o'clock the pressure was a little stronger but was far away from normal.

At 9 o'clock without any warning the supply dwindled and failed entirely. With the temperature hovering around the zero mark Coshocton people shivered with the cold. For almost an hour the city was entirely without gas. When it did return the pressure was extremely low and with the great strain on the supply at noon when everyone was preparing lunch on the pressure weakened continuously.

Manager Ernest Smith of the Coshocton Gas Co. said to an Age reporter Saturday noon that the trouble was not in the local main. He said the high water had put out of commission several of the wells in the Utica field and in the Killbuck field from which places Coshocton is furnished with its fuel. He said that the pressure was far below normal.

Because of the low pressure the Pope-Gosser China Co., which is totally dependent on the natural gas supply, had to close down its entire plant Saturday morning. The Coshocton Glass Co., whose big furnaces are heated with natural gas were cut off and they are now using their big gas generator recently installed for just such emergencies.

The situation is growing serious in Coshocton and it is feared that a general shortage of gas is being started in the face by Coshocton citizens. If the supply continues weak there will be much suffering in Coshocton from the cold if the warnings of the national weather bureau can be taken seriously, for it is predicted that another extremely cold wave is due to sweep the country.

This is the first time this winter and practically the first time since Coshocton has been furnished with natural gas that a real shortage has been threatened. During the last cold snap the pipes leading across the Tuscarawas river bridge froze up cutting off the supply for a while but at no time did the supply threaten to decrease.

The big ice gorges that are being formed in almost every stream in the country due to the breaking up of the ice during the warm season during the first of the week and the subsequent freezing, is backing the water of the streams over the lowlands. Both the Killbuck field and the Utica field is crippled for this reason.

League Baseball for This City?

Listen to this. A chance for league baseball in Coshocton.

A prominent baseball fan who has had experience in the management of baseball teams stated to The Age Saturday that there is an opportunity for this city to have a baseball team in the Ohio State league. He has had a letter from a prominent manager of a team in one of the larger leagues who is looking for a good live town in which to establish a "farm"—that is, to conduct the team with players under contract to himself and held in the smaller town for emergency. There would be practically no expense to local men, as the owner merely uses the team as a developer for his main team. There is an opening left in the State league and there is a chance for Coshocton to get it.

Ice Gorges Go Out and Roads Opened

A half a dozen people who had been lucky enough to saunter down to the foot of Main street Friday afternoon were repaid by seeing an unusual sight—the breaking of an ice gorge, with a rumble and racket like a batter of musketry.

The ice gorge extended practically across the river a little below the foot of Main street and was gradually piling higher and higher and backing up the water over the Canal Lewisville road, a quarter of a mile above, and flooding the forks. If the gorge did not break and the night grew colder, it looked good for a big flood. But the ice broke.

With a grinding sound, spitting and cracking, the great mass began to move around in a circle, and to bob up and down. It swirled faster and faster and finally broke with a crash and started down stream. The ice in the Tuscarawas above, breaking, came down with a rush and added to the chaos. Great cakes of ice, 14 inches thick, would rise up on end as though trying to escape from the seething mass and grind and squeak against their neighbors.

A tree with a trunk six to eight inches in diameter was in the path of the edge of the grinding mass, and it was broken off as though it had been a toothpick. In ten minutes the Tuscarawas river was cleared of ice, the ice above town held fast.

But it was on the Walhonding side that the "big show" took place. That fast flowing stream was a sea of churned ice as far as eye could see. Traveling at express speed, the floating mass shot down the river into the Muskingum, carrying trees, boards and debris with it. At the foot of Mulberry it swirled from side to side, meeting the Tuscarawas currents, and the grinding and crashing was enough to disturb the slumbers of that whole section of the city if it had kept up during the night.

The ice gorges in the Walhonding, Tuscarawas and Muskingum rivers have broken and the rivers Saturday afternoon are once more down in their beds. The water has receded from the Canal Lewisville road and traffic was again resumed along the road Saturday.

The gorges broke late Friday afternoon and Friday night. The one which had formed above the aqueduct came down the river at midnight and stuck on the bridge abutments but toward morning the ice went down and with it the water went down a whooping. Since Friday night the waters in all three streams have fallen over five feet.

Expect Report Today

Grand Jury Nearly Through With The Hagelgan Case

Circleville, O., Jan. 20. — For the present at least it is unlikely that Pickaway county authorities will seek to recover the body of Frank Coltz, the Hagelgan farmhand, who is said to have been killed three years ago in March, when Miss Fannie Hagelgan was murdered.

In one of his statements Henry Hagelgan, who is held for the slaying of his sister, said that the McKinley brothers had told him they had killed Coltz and buried his body not far from the house at Orient.

Today will see the windup of the grand jury investigation. The stories of Mrs. Edna Luella Roebuck and her mother, Mrs. Edward McKinley, were completed before the grand jury. Several witnesses, including Mrs. Roebuck's husband, have failed to appear. Roebuck was expected in this week at the home of his parents in Reeseville, but it is not thought he showed himself there.

MANY AT TEACHERS MEETING

A large and enthusiastic crowd of teachers assembled at the high school this morning to attend the first meeting of the Coshocton County Teachers Ass'n of the year held at Aloyone hall. Almost 150 teachers from the city and all over the county were in attendance. The number would have been much larger had the roads permitted the teachers in reaching the city.

The morning session was late in getting started but nevertheless the entire program was carried out. The lecture of Prof. C. C. Coler of West Lafayette college was most interesting. His subject was "The Importance of Study." He emphasized the development of the ability of students to search for study so that they may profit by what they find, rather than to search for the study and think it to be used only in the classroom and not in other parts of life.

Prof. Coler read a list of ten commandments to be used by the teachers and illustrated each example with a good maximum.

Interesting remarks were given by Supt. C. E. Bryant, H. C. Ridgeway, and others. The Round Table topics and answers by the different teachers brought out the purpose of the institute in taking up practical things for the betterment of the pupils.

The afternoon session commenced promptly at 12:30 and the work was as interesting as the morning session. The addresses and topics were given and contained many practical and advanced ideas. The teachers are highly enthusiastic over the first meeting of the year and it is well assured that another meeting will be held at a convenient date.

BRIDGE MOVED BY ICE

Ice Gorge Strikes Trestle With Terrific Force Friday.

TRAIN WAS JUST PASSING ACROSS

Several Coshocton people had a very narrow escape from death at Todd's Forge near Morrow, Muskingum-co., Friday afternoon when a C. & C. passenger train north-bound from Zanesville to Trinway all but fell into a ditch.

The train which was filled with passengers was spinning along the rails at a merry clip. The train was crossing the creek near Morrow station when a huge ice gorge above the bridge let go and going down the stream struck the bridge with terrific force. The bridge was moved several feet just as the last coach of the train was passing to solid ground. Traffic over the bridge has been discontinued by the railroad company until repairs can be made. The bridge was moved several feet by the force of the blow.

Several passengers bound for Coshocton were on the train and when they arrived in Coshocton they were still suffering with an attack of nervousness as the result of their fright.

CUMMINS IS ALSO WILLING

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, today announced in a signed statement his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president.

JUST GOES TO SHOW HOW ROS. COE FEELS NOW

County Recorder Charles Stipes has a bump on his nose, all due to the fire excitement that has gripped Roscoe, where he dwells. He was aroused at 5 a.m. Saturday by the call of fire due to the gasoline conflagration at the Butler home. Stipes was undeniably excited. Another fire! He leaped from bed, and half scrambled into his clothes, dashing down stairs as he dressed. He unlocked and flung open the front door and darted out. But he hadn't opened the door wide enough and struck it bang with his nose. It raised a lovely welt, and he counted exactly thirteen bright glittering stars. He carries a dark blue scar and an abrasion of the bridge.

Sunday's Program Should Draw Many

Sunday and Monday will be of great interest to the men of Coshocton who are interested in the Men and Religion Forward Movement. Special meetings have been arranged and will be held in the different churches of the city in the interest of that work.

A team of five well known men from Columbus will be in Coshocton two days to conduct this short campaign. The team is headed by Prof. C. A. Bruce of the Ohio State University who is an able speaker and especially prepared for the work; Prof. Otto Magley, principal of the Columbus West high school will talk on "Boys Work." Prof. W. J. Zuck, formerly connected with Otterbein University at Westerville will address the different audiences on "Bible Study Work" and Rev. Byron Long, who has had much experience along that line will have as his general topic "Social Service."

Monday Rev. Dr. Lewis pastor of the Columbus M. E. church will have charge of the services and will talk along the line of "Evangelism." Similar campaigns have been held in Portsmouth, Uhrichsville and New

ICE GORGE BREAKS; BOATS SWEEP AWAY

Situation on Ohio and Tributaries Is Serious

Gallipolis, O., Jan. 20.—A great ice gorge at Shiding mill bend, in the Ohio river, broke, and is sweeping southward, doing great damage. Thirty barges in the Pomeroy bend and the steamer Tom Doddsworth were torn from their moorings and swept away in the ice. The steamer finally was piloted to a place of safety by the heroic efforts of its crew.

Great damage by a disastrous flood was delayed here by the advent of cold weather, as it held up the huge gorge in the Big Kanawha, which was already beginning to move.

At lock No. 7 the Mobler Lumber company lost a wharf boat and timber valued at $20,000 when the ice began to move.

All affluents of the Big Kanawha are running bank full and filled with ice, and the fleet of steamers at the mouth of the river here is in great peril.

Much Damage at Parkersburg.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 20.—The breaking of an ice gorge in the Little Kanawha river here carried $100,000 worth of river craft into the Ohio river, including the docks of the Parkersburg Dock company, the tow boats Maggie May and Iron City.

Gorge Moves Railroad Bridge.

Lebanon, O., Jan. 20.—Passengers on a Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley train had a narrow escape from death when a big ice gorge moved the bridge at Todd's Fork, near Morrow, out of position just as the last coach of the train passed over.

Morse Receives Papers

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 20.—Hearing the official papers giving freedom to Charles W. Morse, his wife arrived here. She was hurried by auto to the post hospital at Fort McPherson, where Morse has been an inmate, owing to his health, since last November.

When she reached the hospital Miss Jennie Morse, the sister of the banker, was the only person in the room with the prisoner. Silently Mrs. Morse handed the official papers to Morse. Clutching them in his weak grasp, he murmured a word or two of thanksgiving.

CAN OF GASOLINE EXPLODES AND MAN RECEIVES MANY BURNS

Mistook Can of Gasoline For One Containing Coal Oil and Attempts to Light Fire in the Kitchen Stove With It.

Can Blown Into Bits By Explosion — Curtains Catch Fire From Burning Liquid Which Was Thrown Over the Room.

O. I. Butler of Roscoe, aged about 54 years old, received painful burns on his hands, arms, and neck at 5 o'clock Saturday morning when a gasoline can exploded. He mistook the gasoline can for one containing kerosene when he started to light the fire in the kitchen stove. The can was blown to pieces scattering the burning liquid over the room and igniting a window curtain. Mr. Butler's injuries are not serious.

Mr. Butler arose early to light the fire in his kitchen stove. A can of gasoline and one containing kerosene was usually kept on the porch at the rear of the house. In the dark Mr. Butler picked up the gasoline can thinking he had the kerosene. He returned to the kitchen and poured a quantity of the gasoline on the kitchen fire. The flames flared up communicating with the gasoline can and the explosion followed. With a report that was heard throughout the neighborhood the can blew up scattering fragments of it over the room and throwing the burning liquid to every part of the kitchen. Mr. Butler was enveloped in a sheet of flame.

A window curtain which hung near the kitchen stove burst into flames. It was pulled down by Mr. Butler and the flames extinguished. Mr. Butler did not realize he was burned until after the excitement was over. Both his hands and arms were blistered painfully and one side of his neck was badly burned. Home remedies were applied. No physician was called.

WET GAIN OVER THREE YEARS AGO IS CLOSE TO 40,000 IN 24 COUNTIES

First Round of Second Local Option Elections Ends With Gallia County for Present — Twenty Four Counties Voted and 16 Went Wet; 8 Dry — State License Now the Issue.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 20.—The county of 39,781. Counties showing net dry gains this year: Ashland 506, Wayne 330, Brown 602. Total 2043. Total net wet gain of 1911-12—37,738.

Representatives of the liquor interests over the state are using these figures to show that there is, to say the least, dissatisfaction with the present methods of handling the liquor traffic. They are using them as arguments that the constitutional convention should provide for a regulatory license system, as the only enduring method of holding the saloons in restraint. They claim that prohibition in its various phases has been given a thorough tryout in Ohio, and that the time is now ripe for the state to take control of the business through the regulatory provisions of a license plan.

License, they say, will enable the state to keep undesirable characters out of the business and will give the state power to kick out of business the men who refuse to obey the law.

In the 24 elections, Muskingum county holds the prize for registering the biggest flop from the dry to wet column. Three years ago, despite a vigorous protest from Zanesville, the county voted dry by 1,011. This year it went wet by 4,580, registering a net gain of 4,591.

Wet and Dry Gains. Wayne county administered the liquor forces their soundest drubbing. Three years ago it voted dry by 890. This year it "hiked" that figure to 1,775, including a net dry gain of 925. Figures showing the extent of the flops of the various counties that have voted are given herewith.

The net wet gains are based upon the difference between the dry majorities of 1908 and either the wet majorities or the reduced dry majorities of 1911 and 1912.

The counties showing net wet gains are: Scioto 1187, Lawrence 1550, Meigs 616, Athens 2504, Wyandotte 257, Marion 1638, Pickaway 385, Columbus 2499, Perry 1522, Coshocton 1425, Darke 859, Muskingum 4591, Hocking 1151, Belmont 2347, Tuscarawas 2350, Jefferson 1972, Licking 2020, Pike 3935, Warren 11, Washington 1268, Gallia 424. Total wet gain day morning.

COLD WEATHER HURTS PEACHES

Budded peaches and early cherries have been destroyed practically by cold weather and prospects are for a poor yield, according to fruit experts from all parts of the county.

It was reported that the continued cold weather nipped all early fruit and examination of peach and cherry buds showed that they had been almost destroyed.

Others report that an unusually large amount of sap in the young trees was causing great damage because of its effect in breaking and splitting the bark.

Fruit growers in Coshocton county fear that next year's crop is now a total failure and peaches especially are looked upon as being very poor prospects. The apple crop so far has not been injured, say local fruit men.

CHANGE TO GET TICKET

New Stunt For Age Readers
Starts in Tonight's Issue.

Here's a new "hidden word" stunt,
that means two of the best seats in the house for somebody, for "Alma Where Do You Live?" next Wednesday night at the Sixth Street theatre.
Beginning today there will start the beginning of a sentence in The Daily Age, that will run through Monday and be completed Tuesday. The sentence will be spelled out, letter by letter, and the letters will appear throughout the paper as "extras" on some word or other, either in the body of the paper, in a heading or in an advertisement.
The person who scans the paper carefully, finds the extra letters, each day and puts them together in the proper sentence will get two of the best seats in the house for "Alma"
if he is the first one to send his solution to the box office of the Sixth St.
theatre. The sentence will be finished Tuesday evening. Arrange your sentence and MAIL it to Manager Norrington at the Sixth Street theatre at once. He will award the two tickets to the first correct solution that reaches him. It will do no good to personally deliver your answer; it must be MAILED, and mailed NOT to The Age
office but to Manager Norrington.
Go through the paper every day, read everything. Here is a tip for today. Today's hidden letters are four in number and can be made spell a word.

Sam Patrick.
James McNicholas.
These were the lucky names hidden in last night's Daily Age that got two tickets each for tonight's final production of the Franklin Street Co.
at the Sixth Street theatre. Tickets await them either at The Age office
or the box office.
There are two names hidden tonight. The owners of these two names will be able to secure two of the best seats in the house, each,
at tonight's final performance, by going to the box office of the theatre and showing the treasurer their name in The Age.

Whiskey and Pine for Colds
Fine Formula for Old Time Remedy
Cured Thousands Here Last Winter.

The increased use of whiskey for colds is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. From your drugist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine Compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey.
Shake well and take one to two tea-spoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. It is very risky. Local druggists say this has had a marvelous demand for the past six years.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAS ONLY SMALL DEFICIT

Meeting Held Friday Night Was Enthusiastic One—
Plans For Bigger Work Next Year.

During the last year there was a deficit of $18.66 in the local Humane society. This fact was brought out at the meeting of the society held in Humane Officer Vensil's office Friday night. The humane officer's expenses for the year were $268.45 including office rent, traveling expenses etc., while the receipts amounted to $249.50. The society regards this deficiency as a very small one. $1,131.51 was collected during the year for the support of children and of this amount $1,927.50 was paid out.

About 12 members attended the meeting Friday night and every one was enthusiastic over the plan advocated which will tend to stir up more enthusiasm among the public for the work that is being done by the society. During the next year speakers of note from neighboring towns and cities will be brought here to deliver addresses at points throughout the county to explain the work of the society and to show what good work is being done.

Seeks to Sidetrack Colonel Roosevelt

Friends of Taft Say Outbursts Are Too Numerous

Washington, Jan. 20. — President Taft's friends have at last become aroused to the importance of counteracting the Roosevelt movement. Two developments apparently impressed the president's supporters as significant. These were the declaration of Governor William E. Glasscock of West Virginia, in which he announced that Roosevelt is the choice of the West Virginia Republicans, and the statement in dispatches from St. Louis that the city Republican committee had met and declared for Roosevelt by a vote of 15 to 10.

As to Governor Glasscock's interview, heroic measures were resorted to by the president's supporters. Interviews with leading West Virginia Republicans were given out which indicate that Governor Glasscock, in his pro-Roosevelt interview, did not speak for all of the leading West Virginia Republicans.

A HERO IN A LIGHTHOUSE. For years J. S. Donahue, South Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. 50c at C. E. Andersons, or C. W. Ferguson's, of Roscoe.

Our Ice Cream Bill. Chicago, Jan. 20.—More than 140,000,000 gallons of ice cream were eaten in the United States last year, for which consumers paid nearly $200,000,000, according to statistics presented to the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, now in session in this city.

BREAKS THE WORST COLD WITHOUT ONE GRAIN OF QUININE

The most effective and harmless way to cure the Grippe or break a severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, is a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel the cold breaking and all gripe symptoms going after the very first dose. It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic aching.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

After three years' research we have conclusively demonstrated that quinine is not effective in the treatment of cold or gripe.

PREMIER TOLD TO GET BUSY

Yuan's Waiting Game Wearies Chinese Republicans

Nanking, Jan. 20.—Decisive action was taken by the republican government to bring about a quick settlement of the question of the future of China and recognition by the powers of the provisional republic.

Dilatory tactics of the imperialists in the matter of the abdication of the throne is not at all satisfactory to the leaders, and an ultimatum was sent to Premier Yuan Shih Kai making a number of specific demands.

The ultimatum, which was the direct result of Yuan's demand that Sun Yat Sen resign the presidency of the republic and allow Yuan to exercise sovereign powers until the proposed national convention has met and adopted a form of government for China, begins by demanding the immediate abdication of the throne and the surrender of sovereign powers. No Manchu is to be allowed to participate in the provisional government of China, and the capital can not be established at Peking.

Yuan Must Make Good. The last announcement is that Premier Yuan Shih Kai can not participate in the provisional government of China until the republic has been recognized by the foreign powers and the country has been restored to peace and harmony. Yuan's plan was to have the court retire for a time and transfer the sovereign powers to him. If this were done and Sun Yat Sen resigned the presidency, Yuan would be a practical dictator and could call the Manchus back at any time. The court itself is averse to leaving Peking until the national convention has met and reached a conclusion.

The republicans do not propose to be caught in any scheme of this kind, and the telegram to Peking, they say, is their last word in the way of an agreement. If Yuan refuses to accept the demands of the republican leaders, it is more than likely that the rebels will resume fighting when the armistice expires on Jan. 28 and the march on Peking will begin.

TURNED DOWN BY KNOX

State Department Refuses to Recognize Chinese Republic. Washington, Jan. 20.—An appeal from the republican division of the Chinese government to the powers for recognition was received at the state department. The text of the appeal is as follows:

The Manchu government having entered into negotiations with the republic of China for the purpose of abolishing its entire sovereign rights, powers and privileges, we fervently pray for recognition in order to avoid a disastrous interregnum. The appeal was signed by Wang Chung Wei, foreign minister.

Recognition of the republican government of China is not even contemplated at the state department at this time, for reasons that have already been explained. No answer to Minister Wang's telegram will be sent.

Cotton Strike Settled. Manchester, England, Jan. 20.—The dispute in the cotton trade, which culminated in a lockout affecting about 200,000 men on Dec. 27, has been settled.

Engineer Fatally Scalded. New Bremen, O., Jan. 20.—The steam gauge burst while William Herschfeld, engineer at the Bell handle works, was making a survey of the boiler, and the boiling water struck him in the face, burning him so badly that he will die. His eyes were burned out.

Scene from Jos. Weber's sensational musical comedy, "Alma Where Do You Live?" at the Sixth St. theatre Wednesday, Jan. 24.

The Theatre

How the North Pole Was Reached. With but two Eskimo companions, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the American explorer, undertook a journey of unparalleled hardship, and which called for almost superhuman endurance. Probably no feat of equal difficulty, adventure and hardship will ever again be accomplished.

Dr. Cook's own account of his remarkable journey is one of the most thrilling, entertaining and gripping accounts in the history of exploration. He will deliver a lecture and show many interesting Arctic views by means of lantern slides at Sixth St. theatre on Thursday, Jan. 25.

"The Gamblers." In these turbulent times of get-rich-quick speculators and high-finance gamblers, Charles Klein, should be called the psychological man. His gripping play, "The Gamblers," which comes to Sixth St. theatre soon deals with just such individuals. Some claim that Mr. Klein wrote his play around the career of Charles W. Morse, others that Joseph G. Robin's life offered the suggestion of the story. One of the main scenes in the play is where the board of directors is making every effort to save their chain of banks from failure, and themselves from the state's prosecution.

Alma. That oft-repeated question, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" will be answered at the Sixth St. theatre when Joe Weber will offer this musical farce by Paul Horve and Jean Briquet for an engagement of Wednesday, Jan. 24.

The English version has been written by George V. Hobart, and it is said that he has greatly improved the original text, injecting much American humor and eliminating all of the unpleasant Gallicisms which caused Mayor Gaynor of New York to frown upon the German version, so that now there remains only the fun and no harm whatever in the play.

ATTACKS A MERE INFANT

Foreigner Attacked By Mob and Is Rescued By Coumbus Police.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—With one man carrying a rope and crying "lynch him" and a few of a crowd of neighbors brandishing revolvers and knives, the police rescued Tommaso Maeri, 20, suspected of having mistreated Sophia, 8-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonia Venturini, from the Venturini residence, and took him to the city prison.

The rescue was accomplished after the crowd had threatened to storm the house in which the trembling Maeri had been a boarder. The child's uncle threatened to kill the man with a knife.

MR. FRANK FERRELL. In his comedy roll Zeke in "The Missouri Girl" at Sixth St. theatre Monday, Jan. 22.

and no harm whatever in the play. Of course all of the sparkling music by Jean Briquet has been retained, and Mr. Hobart's fourteen original lyrics are laughable and clever in the extreme.

Mr. Weber has spared no expense in the production of the cast, which includes Nina Collins, William Friend, George M. Bogues, Stephen N. Stott, Count P. Vasey, Abbott Adams, Jno. Martin, Mildred P. Terrell, Violet Jewel, Marie Annias and Louis M. Blake.

The play comes here from an exceptionally long run in New York at Mr. Weber's theatre.

MAYOR OBJECTED, CALLED OFF FIGHT

It is Criminal to Neglect the Skin and Hair

THINK of the suffering entailed by neglected skin troubles — mental, because of disfiguration, physical because of pain. Think of the pleasure of a clear skin, soft, white hands, and good hair. These blessings, so essential to happiness and even success in life, are often only a matter of a little thoughtful care in the selection of effective remedial agents. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. B, Boston, will secure a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on Skin and Scalp Treatment.

INGRATITUDE

If there is anything that is abhorrent to the average manly man
 it is ingratitude. The man who reaps from the kindnesses of his friends and then forgets them in his hunger
 for more, is not deserving of any trust or confidence. The most notable case in recent years is that of Governor Wilson and Harper's Weekly. The editor of that notable old journal, Col.
 Harvey, for years has been booming Woodrow Wilson of Princeton as the proper candidate for president. For years it has been a joke, and only recently has the world at large taken notice of the "schoolmaster" statesman. Wilson has become a presidential possibility through the constant advertising given him by Col.
 Harvey. And now, when he is really looked upon as a possibility, "he turns on his old friend and tells him
 to stop booming him in the Weekly, or people will think Wall Street is behind him. He might just as well take umbrage at any New York newspaper being behind him, for the owners of them are almost all wealthy men and delivers to greater or lesser extent, in Wall Street. Harper's Weekly this week has at the top of its editorial column the following notice:

TO OUR READERS

We make the following reply
 to many inquiries from readers of Harper's Weekly:
 The name of Woodrow Wilson
 as our candidate for president was taken down from the head of these columns in response to a statement made to us directly by Governor Wilson to the effect that our support was affecting his candidacy injuriously.
 The only course left open to us,
 in simple fairness to Mr. Wilson, no less than in consideration of our own self-respect, was to cease to advocate his nomination.
 We make this explanation with great reluctance and deepest regret. But we cannot escape the conclusion that the very considerable number of our readers, who have co-operated earnestly and loyally in advancing a movement which was inaugurated solely in the hope of rendering a high public service, are clearly entitled to this information.
 It shows up Wilson as an ingrate.
 Here in Ohio some Democrats that we know say pretty nearly the same thing about Harmon. A man who is an ingrate is never president, nor fit to be. The man who cannot be true to his friends, cannot be true to the people. The charge of ingratitude practically eliminates both of these men for the Democratic nomination. Bryan looms up more and more clearly as the Democratic nominee as the days of June draw closer.

NOT A "RIGHT"

No man has the "right" to vote. That is a delusion that appears to be obtaining with many earnest ladies just now. The other day a woman in New York framed up a set of ten commandments for working girls, many of which were good, but which is poisoned by the fallacy when she declares that woman suffrage is not a privilege but a right which has been denied her. If a vote were a right it would be granted a man as soon as he arrives on earth instead of waiting 21 years; if it were a right, every male emigrant would vote immediately on landing. It is distinctly a privilege. What woman expects to gain by the vote is beyond comprehension.
 "Freedom the average suffragette will answer you. Freedom from what?
 Who's oppressing her? It is an unde-niable fact that the American woman is better off than any other woman on the face of the globe. She is more adulated, more respected than the woman of any other country. The American working girl is safe on the streets and in the offices because of the wide and wholesome respect that the American man has for womankind.
 She is protected by the public instead of menaced by it as is often the case on continental Europe. No man ever had his wages raised by his vote, although he votes for policies that will tend toward prosperity and therefore will help his wages. The woman who presides over her own home exerts far more influence on public conditions than any woman who parades the streets as a suffriette sandwich ever will.

CANNED SYMPHONIES

"The man in the house next door has invested his hard-earned savings in a phonograph," said the morose boarder, "and he keeps it going every evening just when I want to read some uplifting book. Unless he can be suppressed, I foresee that I'll have to hunt another boarding house."

"I trust you will seek another boarding house," said the star boarder politely. "Such a proceeding would give general satisfaction." As William Clarence Shakespeare remarked, the man who is not charmed by the concord of sweet sounds is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils. There is something wrong with the man who protests against the phonograph, and he should take his head to a cobbler and have it half soled.

"It has become the fashion with half baked humorists in boarding houses and elsewhere to say biting, caustic things of the phonograph. These humorists are the descendants of the nierry men who used to insist in print and on the stage that a mother-in-law in the house is worse than a contagious disease."

"In the course of time the joke concerning this admirable female became so halt, lame and blind that it was forced into retirement."

"Then came the phonograph fest, which has contributed to the gaiety of the nations for several years, and which appears to have a long career of usefulness before it."

"Now the truth is that the phonograph is one of the greatest blessings of this age of blessings. I have a married friend at whose humble abode I pass an evening once in a while, and every time I get there he furnishes a free concert with his music mill."

"Before he got the phonograph habit my friend was a restless, dissatisfied man. He didn't know what to do in the long winter evenings. He got tired of beating his wife and jawing the children, and his eyes were too weak to read much, and he was a trial to himself and everybody else."

"Then he was persuaded to buy a phonograph and his nights were filled with music. He gets more happiness out of that little box with a sheet iron horn attached than the millionaire gets out of his yacht, and his wife and children have an equal share."

"Tell me, if you can, of another amusement as cheap and satisfying. The phonograph has made home life in the country twice as attractive as it used to be, and it makes my blood boil in my veins when I hear an aleck speaking of the canned music in slighting terms, in a misguided effort to be funny."

Put aside—just once—the Salts,

Fess Says
It's Taft

Columbus, Jan. 19.—If the fight for the people is the measure of the progressiveness surely President Taft is the leader in that fight, asserted
 S. D. Fess, president of Antioch College, who has just been elected vice president of the constitutional convention.

Interviewed by Chairman Lewis C.
 Laylin of the Republican state executive committee, Mr. Fess declared that not to renominate and re-elect
 President Taft would be unwise.

He said:

"As I understand the term progressive, in its modern political significance, I am surely a progressive. The movement for the last score of years has been away from centralized authority toward a larger participation by the people. This was evidenced by the fight in the national house against two great powers in the hands of the speaker, which ended in wrestling from him the appointment of committees. In this I am a progressive."

Dancing Class Reception.
One of the prettiest parties of the season was the reception given Friday evening at Forbes hall by Mr. and Mrs. James Shepler to their dancing classes and parents and friends. The big hall room was crowded by the merry young folks who enjoyed three solid hours of harmony of sound and motion. Excellent music by piano and traps was furnished by Messrs. Thomas and Wilcox. A prettier scene would be hard to imagine than the young girls in their neat frocks, and youths going through the steps of the various dances with perfect precision. Between 30 and 50 young people are in the classes and their ballroom deportment as well as their success with the dances is ample evidence of the excellent results of their teachers' efforts. During the intermission fruit punch and dainty cakes were served by a dozen little girls. The new term opens next Friday night and indications are that the classes will be larger than ever before.

GRANDFATHER SAW LINCOLN KILLED
George Ford, a grandson of the man who built, owned and managed Ford's theatre, Washington, where President Lincoln was killed, was in Coshocton yesterday. He is with the Fields management and is out ahead of the "Alma, Where Do You Live" show that comes to the Sixth-St. theatre next Wednesday night.

Mr. Ford is a well known theatrical man and has been prominently connected with the leading producers of New York, although he is still a young man. His father is the owner of the Ford theatre, Baltimore, the leading playhouse of that city. In fact it is a decidedly theatrical family.

He was much interested in learning that a Coshocton county man was the first to leap on the stage the night that President Lincoln was killed—it will be remembered Col. Penn Keith of Nellie had that distinguished honor.

"The old Ford theatre" said Mr. Ford in talking to a Daily Age man, "was arranged in the foyer about like the Coshocton theatre. A little peephole window led from the box office into the interior of the house just as it does here. I have often heard my grandfather tell of how he happened to be looking into the house from the box office just as Wilkes Booth pushed back the curtain when it fell between the acts and strode across the stage shouting something. My grandfather said he was at a loss to know what had happened, but as people clambered up on the stage and ran hither and thither, with women screaming and men shouting, he knew that something was wrong. Then he heard that the president had been shot. He always said it was the most horrible day of his whole life."

WATER WORKS IS PLANNED BY COUNCIL FOR BALTIMORE
Committees Are Appointed To Take Matter Under Advisement.

Baltimore may have a municipal water works plant and system before another year rolls by, according to plans made by the village council at its meeting held last Wednesday night. The council authorized the securing of engineers to make plans and estimates for the new system.

Fred Bartholmeh, H. C. Gerber and J. M. Rinehart were appointed as a committee to hire surveyors and engineers to go over the ground as soon as it is possible to make surveys of the new system and to make estimates on the cost for a complete system of water works in the village.

Baltimore is advantageously situated for a gravity water works system and it is this kind of system that will be installed probably. The citizens of the village to the person are in favor of the new plans and everyone is very much enthused over the prospects of having their municipal plant. The village is now furnished with water by the old fashioned hand pumps and town wells.

It is expected the committee appointed at last Wednesday's session to investigate the matter will be ready for a report to be given at the next meeting which will be held in February.

"What is the difference," asked Mr. Bones, "between a statesman and a boss?" "A statesman," replied Mr. Tambo, "puts himself in the hands of his friends, but the boss devotes himself to seeing what he can get his own hands on."

"What makes you think the baby is going to be a great politician?" asked the young mother, anxiously. "I'll tell you," answered the young father, confidently: "He can say more things that sound well and mean nothing at all than any kid I ever saw."

Intervention Talk Is Heard At The State Department.

Washington, Jan. 20.—That the United States will be forced to intervene in Ecuador to protect American and foreign interests is the view held at the state department, where telegrams were received giving an account of the defeat of the revolutionists and their retreat to Guayaquil. The rebel leaders are reported to have expressed a willingness to have the foreign consuls at Guayaquil take charge of the situation for the sake of restoring peace and order.

Lieutenant Constant Cordier, military attaché at Quito, and Herman R. Dietrich, United States consul at Guayaquil, will have charge of the situation at that city so far as this government is concerned. Evan E. Young, American minister, is at Quito, the capital, 300 miles inland, and no orders have been sent to him to leave there. Mr. Dietrich has instructions to broad as to permit him to use his discretion in the matter of any intervention in the situation.

Yorktown in Harbor.
The United States gunboat Yorktown is the only foreign warship in the harbor at Guayaquil. It seems likely, therefore, that representatives of this government will take the lead in whatever steps may be decided on toward intervention. This government has also been asked to care for the British interests in Ecuador during the revolution, owing to the breakdown of the British gunboat Sherwater at Acapulco, Mexico. The request has been accepted. This will serve to increase the prestige of the American government representatives at Guayaquil.

LOSE 1,000 IN BATTLE

Ecuadorian Rebels Driven Back to Guayaquil.
Guayaquil, Jan. 20.—The Guayaquil rebel army has been badly defeated in a severe battle with the government troops under General Julio Andrade. The government troops made the attack at Yaguache, northeast of this city, and at the close of the battle it was found that more than 1,000 men had been killed and wounded. The rebel army fell back at the close of the engagement.

HEARS FROM FRIEND HADN'T SEEN FOR QUARTER CENTURY

Here is a pretty little story from his week's Dresden Transcript. To the Transcript—I will give to the Transcript readers a little incident such as occurs in our lives rarely.

"Before the war," James White was principal of the Dresden school, under the superintendency of Robert W. Stevenson. Their boarding house was conducted by Mrs. Wallace, in the house where I now live. Mrs. Wallace was the widow of a Baptist minister, and she had a fair and pretty young daughter whose name was Amelia. Can anybody in this town now recall the name of Amelia Wallace? Yes, there is one other who can do so, at least, Brice Frazier was a boarder at the Wallace home and a pupil of the school at that time.

Principals in the drama of life, as enacted at that period in Dresden, wandered away and almost none are left. If one or two are found they feel "like a stranger in a strange land."

Now comes the climax: A few days ago I received a postal card from Topeka, Kas., which said: "Will you be kind enough to write Mr. White a birthday card; he will be eighty years old the seventeenth. He is now away and I want to surprise him."

Yours, Amelia Wallace White.
If the Rev. James White will be surprised when he beholds my handwriting "on the wall," what do you imagine my surprise when I received the requesting card from friends I had not seen, heard of, or from, for more than a half century?

Life Insurance or Death Insurance—Which?

People who buy life insurance for life insurance, which is really death insurance, but life insurance is frequently sold as life insurance, and is not. Can any one get a policy on a man not to take the life of the insured? No. Life insurance is a contract to pay money to the beneficiary in case of death. It is a contract to pay money to the beneficiary in case of death. It is a contract to pay money to the beneficiary in case of death.

Investigate it. If you are broad minded enough to believe that there can be a contract to pay money to the beneficiary in case of death, then you are not a life insurance man. You are a death insurance man. You are a death insurance man.

Mr. W. H. Anderson in Coshocton, Ohio.

Democratic Leaders Fear for Economy Program—Pork Barrel On Tap

Washington, Jan. 20.—Fear that their economy program will be shot to pieces is causing Democratic leaders no little worry and it is rumored that a caucus will be held in the near future for the purpose of putting on the brakes and fixing the limit of the expenditures for the session.

Leading Democrats have been thinking of doing this for some time, but the necessity for immediate action was impressed on them when the house committee on public buildings and grounds voted unanimously to report a $16,000,000 public building bill. This limit, the committee figures, will give each member of the house one slice of pork—no more, no less.

Harbors Committee Industrious.
The next blow to the economy program is expected when the house rivers and harbors committee votes, as it is certain to do if present plans are carried out, for a $20,000,000 river and harbor bill.

WANT HOME FOR 7 YEAR-OLD GIRL

Do you want a bright little girl to take into your home and bring up as your own? Do you want to make a lonely little heart filled with cheer and happiness? Do you want to make two little tear-stained eyes brighten with a twinkle of delight? You can do all these things by applying to the local humane society. In their keeping they have a little girl, a beautiful child with a mind that is clear and right, for whom they want to find a home. An advertisement appears in the columns of The Age Saturday afternoon asking for a home for this little child.

A pitiful story is back of the child's present life. When she was a mere babe her mother and father had trouble and a separation followed. The mother was not able to provide for the child so the little girl was thrown to the mercy of the world. Just then the humane society heard of the case and took the child into their keeping. They found a place in the city where it has been boarded for the last few months. But the child was among strangers and the expense drained considerably on the humane society and they want to find the little girl a permanent home. Are you willing to take her in?

Golden Seal Root.
Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.
Many thousands of pounds of this root are used each year in the famous cathartic remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

For Fourteen Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Egin, Ill.—"After fourteen years of suffering everything from female complaints, I am at last restored to health. I employed the best doctors and even went to the hospital for treatment and was told there was no help for me. But while taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use until I was made well."
—Mrs. HENRY LEISEBERG, 748 Adams St., Kearneysville, W. Va.—"I feel it my duty to write and say what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female weakness and at times felt so miserable I could hardly endure being on my feet. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following your special directions, my trouble is gone. Words fail to express my thankfulness. I recommend your medicine to all my friends."
The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which now clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from woman's ills.
If you want special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consulting) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be answered and answered by a doctor and held in strict confidence.

CLAIMS CONSPIRACY
Government on Trail of Elgin and Chicago
Butter Boards

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The present high price of butter lent additional interest to the proceedings against the Chicago butter and egg board before Master in Chancery Morrison.

L. D. Judson, former secretary of the Elgin Butter board, was subpoenaed to appear. Judson, on the stand, identified records which the government contends will show that members of the Chicago butter and egg board were also affiliated with the Elgin board of trade and that they worked in conjunction to fix the price of butter and eggs.

The action is a civil proceeding to enjoin the quotation committee of the board from fixing the price of butter and eggs at their regular sessions, a custom held to be in defiance of the Sherman anti-trust law.

LOCAL FIVE IS DEFEATED

West Lafayette College Team Too Much For C. H. S.

The C. H. S. five battled bravely against the W. L. C. players on the latter's floor Friday evening but it was of no use, the collegians were bound to have sweet revenge for the defeat of the previous week and so they hung up a 31 to 10 score at the final tally.

A classic game of basketball was presented to the spectators and the large crowd that attended from Coshocton had the pleasure of seeing a game equally as good as the one here with W. L. C. the week before.

The collegians kept up their reputation for roughness and in the last period Montgomery was "canned" for roughing it up too much with the Coshocton players. Wertz played a good game for the college team and Myser and Donley kept up their end for C. H. S. Lineup and summary: W. L. C.—31 C. H. S.—10
Wertz forward Myser
Montgomery forward Donley

Fire Did Not Affect Its Stability

Cheering and reassuring word has been received in Coshocton for the 200 policy holders of the Equitable Life Insurance Co. whose magnificent building in New York was destroyed by fire the other day. Dr. J. E. Foster, the local agent, has received an official communication that the loss of the building will not reduce the company's surplus, as the structure had not been carried as an asset for the last five years, as it had no market value. No one would want it except to remove it and build on the site, and the cost of removing it would preclude the possibility of anyone purchasing it. That the confidence of the commercial world has not for a moment been shaken is shown by the fact that one policy for $150,000 was written while the fire was raging and a $400,000 policy was written in Philadelphia the next day. The volume of applications coming in from all over the field is unusually large. The fire has really not affected the staunch company in the least except to bother it to remove its valuable paper to a new location.

"CHILD BURNED" STORY A FAKE?

Telephone "Tip" Was Intended to Catch Press

A story published in The Age Friday night concerning the burning of a McDevitt child on Coshocton Route 3 is thought, after an attempt to locate details, to be a "fake" pure and simple. The story was telephoned into The Age office late Friday afternoon by a man who evidently was in a hurry, just as the last form was being put on the press and too late for The Age to verify it. The story was minus details. Immediately an attempt was made to discover the facts of the story but nothing could be learned; not even a family on Route 3 could be found whose name was McDevitt. The story was probably a fake, the product of a mind designed to "catch" the local press. The Age was not the only newspaper which "bit" on the story for another local evening paper carried it in part of its edition under big scaring head lines giving the alleged "horrible" accident in its details.

Oh, You Headache

I never believed I could be relieved of headache. Had tried headache powders, and cheap glasses galore. In desperation I went to Burns the eye sight specialist. He made a scientific examination, gave me just what my eyes needed and I never have headache any more. A word to the wise—See Burns. Burns Block, Room adjoining the Coshocton Nat'l Bank.

Randles Victor

Gets Verdict For $25.00 Against Samuel Hamilton

A. J. Randles was given a verdict for $25 against Samuel Hamilton Friday afternoon by the petit jury in common pleas court after the jury had deliberated nearly two hours. Randles sought to recover $55 which he claimed was due on a horse deal. He claimed Hamilton sold him a horse which was balky and would not pull and it was further claimed that Hamilton had agreed that if Randles sold the horse he (Hamilton) would pay the difference between the two sales. Randles won a similar case in which he was the defendant brought by Clifford Randles Friday morning.

WANTS MORTGAGE ON LAUNDRY FORECLOSED

A. C. Sondles Starts Suit Against S. R. and C. E. McCormick to Collect $950.

A. C. Sondles late Friday afternoon filed a petition in common pleas court in which he asks that a mortgage he holds against S. R. McCormick and Clyde E. McCormick be foreclosed. The mortgage is held as security for a promissory note for $950, date Jan. 15, 1911.

Sondles alleges that he sold the Crescent laundry to the McCormicks and took the promissory note and the mortgage on the deal. The original note was made payable in one year but some time later the time was extended for two years the extension of time being made providing that McCormicks did not again sell the property. It is claimed that on May 19, 1911 S. R. McCormick sold his interest to Clyde McCormick violating the terms of the original sale. Sondles now seeks to foreclose the mortgage on the laundry property. Sondles is represented by Atty. W. S. Merrell.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.
